

Health and happiness in living and dining the traditional Thai way

This two-storey traditional Thai house on the banks of the Chao Phraya River near to the Temple of the Dawn is a little piece of Thai history. It was formerly the home of Khunying Supatra Singholaga, who in addition to being a successful business lady was a leading advocate of women's right in Thai society.

Today Khunying Supatra is remembered as a woman of great humanity, who achieved so much by personal example. In her memory, and to open up this beautiful property and its river frontage to the public, her daughter Supapan has converted the house into a first-class restaurant. Here guests can relax in informal surroundings and enjoy the very best in Thai cuisine, particularly the fresh seafood dishes which Khunying Supatra herself loved so much.

Here you are amongst friends, for this is still very much a family house run in the traditional Thai way. The decor is modern furnishings for the comfort of all our guests. In the daytime there is the shade of the trees and the cool river breezes, while in the evening you can watch the sun setting and the lights coming on across the water in the Grand Palace.

A wide selection of fresh seafoods
prepared to authentic Thai recipes and available from the a la carte or set menus

- We have a selection of menus for your dining pleasure. The a la carte menu offers a fine selection with dishes priced at around 120-750 baht. During the daytime there is a seafood set menu at 900 baht including tea or coffee and seasonal fruits. For dinner, we would like to recommend our set menus which offer dishes such as shrimp or crab salads, the famous Tom Yum Goong, a seafood basket, pineapple fried rice, and tea or coffee with seasonal fruits. The evening set menus range in price from 900-1,500 baht.
